In this country it is Mardi Gras cele-bration; in Italy it is called Carnival; in Bermany, Fast Nacht; in England, Pancake Day; while in America it has renounced mardes grah, the literal meaning of which is Fat Tuesday. New Orleans, where the French population is large. introduced Mardi Gras in this country, and the celebration reached Memphis. hen Cincinnati, and now lays hold of

New York city.

The celebration is a revelty in metropolitan life, and there have been many who have doubted that it would be attended with success; but this, under the experienced management of Colonel St. Martin, the Earl Grand Marshal, is now settled beyond question. The event will occur on or about April 4, and ex-tensive arrangements are already under way that will tend to make it the event of the year.

General masking will be expected of all in the streets, as is the custom in European cities, and the ceremony of the Mayor meeting the King of Carnival at the gates of the city will be performed as in lands where the Carnival flour-ishes.—[New York Dispatch.

THE LATEST

Still Investigating.

Sational Associated Press to the Star. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. - Secretary Chaudler was before the Committee on Powers and Privileges, with the resignation of Brewer, one of the Louislana Electors. The letter was dated November 4, and was received Novem-ber 15 or 15. It was the practice ber 15 or 18. It was the practice of the Department to accept suca resignation. Did not know that Brewer was a candidate for Elector; did not know of any prearranged p an for the acceptance of his resignation and his reappointment; his application for reappointment was dated the 9th.

The Committee also examined George D. Chaffee, an Illinois Elector, who testified that he received verbal notice of having been appointed Commissioner of the Circuit Court of the Southern

WORK OF THE TRIBUNAL

Arguments on Louisiana Case in Progress To-Day.

National Associated Press to the Star. Washington, Feb. 14 - The members of the Tribunal were a little late in getting in Court this morning, though the crowd was on hand hours before the doors were opened.

Phere are all manner of speculations as to what the result will be. Mr. Car-penter still expresses himself as conftent of a decision in his favor, and is oud in bis assertions of belief that be He evidently feels that this would be much more of a victory for him as counbe seen to be appreciated. Only $1. Examine Domocracy sustained in the Florida at any book store or painters' supply store.

The Republicans express themselves as entirely confident, Mr. Evarts especially addresses the Court and talks to outsiders as if he felt sure of his case beyond question.

Finally, on the opening of the Commission, Mr. Carpenter resumed his argument, contending that the Constitution of the United States forbade the conferring the judicial power upon the Returning Board of Louisians, and that the law of that State, which at-tempted to confer such power, was void. Even if the Returning Board had possessed judicial powers, Mr. Carpenter continued, it had gone outside of its power and had failed to act in compliance with the statute under which it was created, and denounced in bitter terms the four men acting as a Beturning Board who foisted the Kel-logg Government through fraud and villarry upon the people of Louisiana. Mr. Trumbuil said he supposed they would now present their evidence. He proposed to show that the Wm. P. Kelproposed to show that the wm. F. Reliogs who signed the certificate and the Wm. P. Keliogs who received a certificate were the same.

Second, That William P. Kellogs was not legally an Elector, and the certificate was untrue. In short, that there was a majority of votes cast for the Tilden E ectors, and that he Re urning Board had been carrying on a conspiracy, to which Gover-nor Kellogg and others were parties, to count the votes for Hayes. He further offered to prove that Jettrion, Lewis and Brewster, pretended Electors, were incligible, the two former State and the latter a Federal officer. Also that Marks and Burch were State officers, and all of them prombited by offices in the State. A question springing up as to the time to be allowed to argue on the interlocutory question as to the admissibility of evidence offered, it was agreed that the Council on each side have two hours to argue the admissi-bility of evidence, and at 12:30 the Commission took a recess for half an hour. After recess, Mr. Trumbuil proceeded with his argument.

BUFFERINGS OF THE BICH. "Your newspapers make a great luss," said one of the wealthiest men in New York to a World reporter, "about the sufferings of the poor man during these hard times, but I don't see that any of them notice particularly the diabolical distress of the rich man."

The reporter wasn't aware that the rich man suffered at alt.
"That," said he of the wealth, "is because you donn't know anything about it. Way, sir, I unlergo more actual, absolute torture in an hour than any puor solute torture in an hour than any poor wreten in this city. It I hadn't a cent in the word, I'd have some sympathy, some rest, some assistance. As it is, I'm hounded to death. I'm despised, baset, annoyed, condemned, back-bittee, wayinde. The papers write editorials about me. If I go to church I am told that a camel can get through the eye of a nucle slicker than, I can get into heaves. I suppose I worked as hard as any man for more than two-thirds of my life to accumulate a forught to give it away and commence over again. In a winter like this you've no idea of the hardships of the rice. I I help all the people who apply to me, I might as well go to the poor-house, and yet all of them expect it, and most of them, I dare sar, are worthy. It's nut of the question. So they carse me, I suppose. All the becurse me, I suppose. All the be-nevolent societies, chari ies, public institutions, and church organizations have their agentsout. I am waited upon by committees, runners, ciergymen, sec-rataries. They send me had a bushel of letters a day. They drop upon me in the most unexpected places. They get into my private office. They wait in my invary before I amon. They sit on my ibrary before I am up. They sit on my front steps. They follow me into the horse-cars. What is a man to do? It I the them have their way my came whithe paraded as if I wanted to advertise my charittes. It don't the press will want to know what he has ever done for New York. The other day a reporter came to me ab ut my will. He said the public would like to be informed as to ine proposed disposition of my property at my decease. I suppose if I were to get at my decease. I suppose if I were to get cold in my head there'd be a brigade of them quartered under my windows. I them quartered under my windows. I begin to feel that a rice man is a disgrace to the community—that somehow I have committed a crime. I don't like to look a man squarely in the lace for lear his harroi or me will show Mayor Johnston will deliver the aditself or he will stop and ask me to-lend him $1,000 to get his starving lam-ly some food to sat.
